

MEMORIAL TABLET TO EDENTON PARTY

Patriotic Work of North Carolina Society of Daughters of the Revolution.

ELABORATE CEREMONIES
Many of the Great Officers of State Participated in Exercises.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
RALEIGH, N. C., October 24.—The North Carolina Society, Daughters of the Revolution, scored a brilliant success and accomplished a long-cherished aspiration to-day when, with especially fitting ceremony, a handsome and specially designed tablet to the memory of the fifty-one ladies who signed the Edenton Tea Party Resolves of 1774 was unveiled in the presence of a large and representative audience, comprising Daughters of the Revolution, Colonial Dames, Society of the Cincinnati, Sons of the Revolution and other patriotic organizations. Mrs. E. E. Moore, regent of the North Carolina Society, Daughters of the Revolution, presented the tablet to the State, reviewing the purposes of the society and its struggles to accomplish this beginning in 1876. The character of the tablet and the welcome was by Lieutenant-Governor Francis Winston, couched in his choicest language and commending most highly the noble effort of the Daughters of the Revolution in this inspiring patriotism. Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the Supreme Court, followed with an able address treating especially the stirring epoch of American history, in which the Edenton Tea Party was a dramatic and inspiring feature, and representing particularly the share North Carolina had in events leading up to the Revolution.

The tablet was unveiled by thirteen young people, representing the thirteen original colonies, all of whom are descendants of Revolutionary patriots—Katharine Haywood Baker, John Benbury Haywood, Hardy Murrefree Ray, Banks Daniel Withers, William Isaac Prector, W. N. Harrall Smith, Jr., Jonathan Worth Daniels, Samuel Spencer Jackson, Anne Moore Parker, Lucy Hawkins Higgs, Elizabeth Murray Cross, Randolph Hill, Gene Gray Heck.

Then there were special pages for the occasion, also descendants from Revolutionary patriots. They were Van Daman Stomach, Fleming Bates Sherwood, Brandon Bruner, Eugenia Graham Clark, Evelyn Hyman Jackson, Jean Thaxton, Pauline Hill, Bell Mayo Cameron, Bessie Cain Hinton, Emily Browning Addicks, Deborah John Haywood, Anne Caroline Wood, Rebecca Benahan Wood, Nellie Battle Lewis, Mary Bryan Hollister, Bessie Hollister.

Rev. Robert Brent Drane, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Edenton, delivered the opening and dedicatory prayers for the unveiling, and there was a preliminary address on work of the Penelope Baker Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, by the regent, Mrs. Patrick Matthews. There was special music and other features that rounded up a most admirable ceremony. The managers, whose labors have assured the success of the ceremonies, were Mrs. Hubert Haywood, Miss Martha Helen Haywood, Miss Mary Hilliard Hinton, Colonel Benahan, of the Cincinnati, and Marshall Delancey Haywood, representing the Sons of the Revolution.

The North Carolina Society, Daughters of the Revolution, was organized October 19, 1876 (the anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis), Mrs. Spier Whitaker, who is a lineal descendant of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence (William Hooper), being the founder, and first regent. The officers who were present, Mrs. A. Q. Holliday, vice-regent; Mrs. Hubert Haywood, secretary; Miss Anabel Hale, treasurer; Miss Marion T. Haywood, registrar, and Mrs. Frank Cameron and Mrs. Sherwood Higgs, directors, other than the officers.

The ways and means of accumulating the necessary funds for this memorial puzzled the society for quite a while, when the happy suggestion was made by Miss Marion Haywood that the society issue a series of booklets on North Carolina history. This idea was adopted, the publication scoring a remarkable degree of success. Indeed, besides having in hand ample funds from the earnings to run the Booklet, they have set aside the full $450 with which to pay for the Edenton Tea Party Memorial, and the society still has in hand the original $287.45 earnings of the Booklet under the initial management.

Ladies who have served the North Carolina society as regent other than Mrs. Spier Whitaker, the founder, are Mrs. D. H. Hill, Sr., 1902; Mrs. Thomas K. Bruner, 1903 to 1906, and Mrs. E. E. Moffitt, who is the present regent. In addition to her present regent, the society has a number of other officers. Other officers are Vice-Regent, Mrs. Walter Clark; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Leigh Skinner; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. H. H. Baker; Treasurer, Mrs. Frank Sherwood; Registrar, Miss Mary Hilliard Hinton; Genealogist, Mrs. Helen De Berniere Willis.

Mrs. Willis is a sister of Mrs. Spier Whitaker, founder of the North Carolina Society, and is a very active factor in the work. Mrs. Bruner has for a number of years been an enthusiastic and effective worker for the society. She it was who was regent-hostess for the National Society of Daughters of the Revolution, when it held an annual meeting in North Carolina two years ago, at Asheville, when prominent women from every part of the country were entertained so brilliantly by Mrs. Bruner's administration that the society made a substantial contribution to the popular fund that is being raised for the proposed statue to Sir Walter Raleigh.
